

Milinda Moragoda presents policy agenda to spiritual leaders

AS part of a consultation process, Milinda Moragoda presented copies of his nonpartisan policy document, 'Fresh Thinking for a New Generation – An Agenda', to spiritual leaders and opinion-makers in the country.

The agenda was originally drawn up with the intention of developing a non-partisan national policy agenda for the country to stimulate public discourse and debate. The preliminary version of this document was released in October 2017. Over the last nine months, Milinda Moragoda together with his Urumayake Ulpatha Foundation, have been consulting with citizens from a wide section of Sri Lankan society to seek feedback and ideas to incorporate into the document. Here Milinda

Moragoda together with Urumayake Ulpatha Chairman Lalith Weeratunge, and General Secretary R.A.D. Sirisena presenting copies of the agenda to the Agga Maha Pandita, Venerable Kotugoda Dhammawasa; the supreme Mahanayaka of Sri Lanka Amarapura Nikaya, Venerable Thrikunamale Ananda; Amarpura Maha Nayaka Dammarakshitha Nikaya, and Venerable Professor Kollupitiye Mahinda Sangharakkhitha: The Chief Incumbent of the Kelaniya Raja Maha Vihara and Head of the Buddhist and Pali Faculty of the University of Kelaniya.

Milinda presents policy agenda to Archbishop

Milinda Moragoda together with Urumayake Ulpata Chairman Lalith Weeratunge presented a copy of the policy agenda, 'Fresh Thinking for a New Generation - An Agenda' to the Archbishop of Colombo Cardinal Malcom Ranjith recently.

Milinda presented the Agenda to many spiritual leaders and opinion-makers in the country in the recent past.

The Agenda was originally drawn up to develop a non-partisan national policy agenda for the country to stimulate public discourse and debate.

The preliminary version of the document was released in October 2017. Over the last 9 months, Milinda Moragoda together with his Urumayake Ulpata Foundation have been incorporating citizens's ideas into the document.

Milinda Moragoda handing over a copy of 'Fresh Thinking for a New Generation - An Agenda' to ACJU President Ash-Sheikh Mufti M.I.M. Rizwe and General Secretary Ash-Sheikh M.M.A Mubarak at the ACJU headquarters

Moragoda presents non-partisan policy agenda to ACJU

MILINDA Moragoda presented his nonpartisan policy agenda 'Fresh Thinking for a New Generation - An Agenda' to the All Ceylon Jamiyyathul Ulama (ACJU) at their headquarters recently.

This is part of the initiative which Moragoda has worked on through his Urumayake Ulpatha Foundation to formulate a broad, long-term policy agenda for Sri Lanka. He consulted with a broad range of religious leaders and nonpartisan opinion-makers while developing the agenda.